The Greatest Play

By Hugh Duffy. That I Ever Saw

Famous Outfielder and Base Runner Chicago and Boston Teams, Now Manager of the Chicago White Sox.

Tommy McCarthy was the greatest outfielder that ever lived, and he made the greatest play I ever saw. In fact, he made half a dozen of the greatest plays I have ever witnessed, including the one that I think was best of all. McCarthy was in a class by himself as an outfielder. His judgment was superb; he was a quick thinker, full of nerve, fast, and a wonderful thrower. I never have seen anyone, either before or since, who could think or act as quickly as he could. I played alongside of him and many times marveled at his work. The play he made was in a game between Boston and Pittsburgh, when Connie Mack was leading the Pittsburgh team. It came in the ninth inning and the score at the time was 6 to 4 in Boston's favor and both teams were hitting freely, the work of the fielders alone saving them from larger scores. Men were on the bases in almost every inning and it took brilliant playing to prevent scoring. Pittsburgh got men on first and second bases at the start of the ninth inning before a man was out, and Billy Merritt, who was dangerous in a pinch, was at bat. He failed to hit the ball hard, but dropped a short fly between left and center fields, right in the groove where it is so hard for outfielders to reach one. Our outfield was far back, and McCarthy, who was playing center, didn't seem to have a chance to reach the ball. He came tearing in at top speed, however, and tried for the ball on the fly. I think that when he got within thirty or forty feet of it he saw that he could reach it, but immediately decided upon another plan. He sprinted in. The base runners saw that he could reach the ball and hurried to get back to their bases. Instead of catching the ball, however, Mac scooped it, trapping it while going at full speed, and without slackening his pace at all he heaved the ball to Lowe on second. Lowe touched the base runner and then stepped on second base for the forceout, completing the double play. The Pittsburgh team was all at sea, not knowing whether Mac had caught or trapped the ball, and Merritt, who had hit it, was so confused or else so astonished at Mac's play that he had stopped half way down to first base and was standing watching to see what was happening around second base. Lowe, of course, supposed Merritt had gone over first base, but McCarthy never seemed to overlook anything. He was still running in, and was almost to second base when he saw Merritt's abstraction, and sprinting on he grabbed the ball out of Lowe's hand, and without stopping raced on through the diamond and touched Merritt, making the third out and completing the most astonishing and brilliant triple play I ever saw. His trapping of the ball was done so cleverly and rapidly that only one or two men on the two teams realized what had happened, but McCarthy had the whole thing planned out and accomplished the feat almost without assistance. I believe that with the speed with which he was coming forward when he caught the ball, he could have run on to second base, touched the runner and the base, then gone on and touched Merritt, completing a triple play unassisted, a thing which no outfielder ever did, and which is considered impossible.

HUGH DUFFY.

Texas League Notes and Gossip

San Antonio, Texas, June 8.—The injury to Swampy Thompson's right hand has put him out of the game and at the same time has badly crippled the Fort Worth team. The fact that a number of men have been crippled from time to time is responsible for the low place that team now has in the percentage table of the league.

The strongest recent addition to the staff of the San Antonio team is Toner, a pitcher secured from Bay City of the Southwest Texas league. Since being promoted he has been trying winning ball and has made a great hit with the fans.

George Smith, of the Austin team, has been driving runs across for his team with surprising regularity. Despite all the efforts of Jiggs Donahue of big league fame, Galveston team continues on the down grade. There is still talk of transferring the franchise from Galveston to some other Texas town.

Bradford, released by Galveston, has been signed by Houston. With new men and a faster company his work is improving and it looks as if he would stick with the Buffaloes.

Edmundson, pitcher, is leading the Houston team in batting with an average of .893. He has been in but 12 games, however. Davis is the real leader. He has participated in 49 games and has a percentage of .225. Salm comes next with .237 and Newman follows with .239.

The fact that McMahon has been suspended for his attack on an umpire has considerably crippled Waco, but that city is keeping well in the front despite this fact. Dood has jumped into the breach.

Catcher Tom Carson of the Waco team is laid up with a split hand. He is one of the best in Texas behind the bat and his loss will be keenly felt by the Waco team. That the aggregation is keeping at the top of the heap despite the number of cripples makes the showing all the more wonderful.

In four days the Fort Worth Panthers have fallen from a position near the top of the heap to the second division. A few days ago the fans were figuring out the percentage between that team and the leaders. They are now hoping to get back in the first division.

For the second time this season Cy Landreth has jumped the Sand Crabs and returned to his home in Kansas. In Cy the team loses a grand batter but a man who is hard to handle.

Big Bill Yohe is battling and fielding in the Texas league again this year in a manner which indicates he will be a candidate for the big leagues again next year. He had one chance but failed to measure up to the proper standard.

Pitcher Mullin, of the Tigers

George Mullin, the backbone of the Detroit Tigers, whose wondrously consistent pitching has enabled the tribe of the speckled Jennings to stay far out in the lead of the American league race. Mullin, one of the most solidly built men in the major leagues, has, not once wavered under fire this year, and he has gone through 18 games without being relieved. It looks as though he will top all the American league slant authors when the season winds up.

BOURBON BEAU WINS IN A GALLOP BY SIX LENGTHS

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—Bourbon Beau proved to be easily best of the small field that started in the handicap, the feature of the card at Churchill Downs. He won galloping by six lengths. The first race resulted in one of the closest finishes of the meeting
when Winter Green, Melvor and Al Muller came to the wire so close together only the judges could separate them.

Booth said that he came here from El he obtained the badge from a Chicago

to which he paid the sum of $5 to teach him the detective business.

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body
no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.
